MOYNIHAN HELD FOR BRIBERY

COLLECTOR TELLS OF HANDING OVER PROTECTION CASH.

Threatened With the Tombs if He Didn't Tell-Corroborated-Rosenfeld a Collector in Several Precincts. Says Jerome-Case to Grand Jury at Once.

After several witnesses for the prosecution had testified vesterday before Justice Holbrook in the Special Sessions court room, against ex-Police Captain Daniel Moynihan, accused of taking a bribe to allow a disorderly house to do business while he commanded at the 104th street station, for the examination was waived and he gave $5,000 bail. The Grand Jury is likely to take up the case to-day.

Antonio Laporti, keeper of the disorderly house in question, testified that Frank Pagliano, his partner, introduced him, on May 13 last, to Frank Raymonto, a hostler in the Street Cleaning Department and an alleged "collector" for the precinct. Movnihan met the three at about 6:30 o'clock that night in the office of Burke's coal vard in East 106th street and told Laporti and Pagliano that they could open disorderly houses for $25 a month each. Then they all went and got a drink and separated. Pagliano and Laporti then went out and collected for their own place and from the places of six of their friends $280, or $40 a house. Of this, $15 a house was to go to Raymonto. Upon receiving the money at his house Raymonto gave $5 each to Laporti and Pagliano.

Raymonto testified that he had known Moynihan for about eight years but had never dealt with him before. After being introduced to Laporti Raymonto said, he went to see Capt. Movnihan at the station house and Moynihan made an appointment for the coal office. Raymonto, who is a good-looking white-haired Italian with a black mustache, was visibly ill at ease on the stand and his command of the English language was limited. He corroborated Laporti's story of the meeting at the coal office. The next afternoon, he said, when he had got the money from Laporti and Pagliano, he paid it over to Movnihan at the stationhouse about 5 o'clock. The money made two rolls, one big one and a little one and Moynihan stuck them into his desk and told Raymonto to tell the protected ones to be very careful to run their places quietly.

Raymonto said that when July came around he found that "Father" Hughes, Movnihan's wardman, had been around collecting from three of the houses, and he himself went to the captain's office with the money from the other places. Hughes was there. After Raymonto had paid the captain his share there was $30 left. Moynihan told Raymonto not to give any of this money to Hughes, but Hughes met Raymonto outside and got half the money.
I got only $7.50 a house, "said Raymonto, gloomily. He told Mr. Olcott, counsel for Moynihan, that he had divulged this story to the District Attorney under a threat from Assistant District Attorney Morgan who said to him:

who said to him:

"I'll give you ten minutes to decide to tell the truth or to the Tombs you go."

Then Morgan pushed him into a room where Laporti and Pagliano were, and when he learned from them what they had told he decided to tell.

"I could see no one who was to protect me, so I told the truth," testified Raymonto, lapsing into deeper gloom than ever.

One of Moynihan's accusers is Wardman Monroe Rosenfeld now of the West Thirty-seventh street station. Mr. Olcott asked seventh street station. Mr. Olcott asked Raymonto if he knew anything of Rosenfeld's collecting blackmail in the East 104th street station.

"We'll concede that he has collected black mail in every precinct in the city where he has ever been, said Mr. Jerome. "I don't mind telling you that we'll probably call you as a witness to testify that ou wouldn't believe him under oath," said

Of course I wouldn't believe him under oath; there are others in the department, too, that I wouldn't believe under oath," replied

After Sergeant Reiffert had testified to After Sergeant Reiffert had testified to having seen Raymonto make weekly calls upon Moynihan, who closed the door of his room, and to certain entries by Moynihan in the station house blotter showing that Moynihan was where Laporti and Raymonto said he was on certain days, Mr. Morgan called Policeman Storjohann to the stand. Storjohann was in plain clothes in East 104th street when Moynihan went there. He said that on Saturday, June 14, he went to Moynihan and said:

He said that on Saturday, June 14, he went to Moynihan and said:

"A lot of Italian houses are opening. I've got evidence against some of them."

Moynihan replied that he didn't want any of it and then the witness said he had intended to get warrants for the places on the following Monday. Moynihan again said he didn't "want it." and he put Storjohann into uniform the next day and kept him on patrol until July 29. him on patrol until July 29.

CAN'T LEASE SUNDAY SCHOOLS. Board of Education's Proffered Dollar

The Executive Committee of the Board of Education rescinded a resolution, yesterday, to give $1 each to the Parish House of Grace Church and Brighton Chapel, Coney Island, for the use of those places as a kindergarten for public school children. The church authorities had offered the chapels free and had refused to sign a lease at an annual rental of $1. The committee decided to take the chapels without

The committee voted to ask the Park Commissioner for permission to use the rest house in Hamilton Fish Park at Pitt and Stanton streets for kindergarten classes It can be fitted for school purposes at a cost of $1,500.

Several measures were adopted to increase the facilities of kindergarten work by taking other rooms in the public schools.

The supervisor of evening lectures reported that President James H. Hyde of the Alliance Française had offered the services of two distinguished French lecturers. MM. Mabilleau and German Martin who are now travelling in this country. The offer was accepted and the Frenchmen will deliver three lectures each next month.

POLITENESS LOST ON "BOBS." But the Bull Terrier Is Not Condemned by the Court to Die.

The bull terrier, "Bobs," owned by Miss Elsie Duncan of 885 Union street, Brooklyn. who recently bit Miss Carrie Rasch of 887 Union street, is to have a further lease of life, according to the decision of Magistrate Naumer in the Myrtle avenue court in Brooklyn, yesterday.

Miss Rasch, in describing the biting incident, said that she put her hand toward the dog out of politeness, "as he had growled on previous occasions when she had met

After hearing a number of witnesses in reference to the disposition of "Bobs," Magistrate Naumer decided that he was not victious and refused to issue a decree for

Wm. C. Whitney and Speacer Trask Give Land for New Avenue in Saratoga.

SARATOJA, Nov. 19 .- Work has been begun on a broad avenue which will connect the east end of the new speedway in a southerly direction with Union avein a southerly direction with Union avenue, the principal drive to Saratoga Lake. It will be over a half mile in length and is to extend through lands given for the purpose by William C. Whitney and Spencer Trask, of New York city, both of whom are large property holders in this section. Another projected avenue will connect the speedway in a northerly direction with Lake avenue.

RETURNS AFTER 55 YEARS.

VOICE AND AND

His Supposed Murderer, Now Dead, Was Long Ostracized in Buffalo. BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 19 .- Matthias Glasser, a wealthy ranch owner of Elko county, Nev., returned to Buffalo to-day, after an absence of fifty-five years, and cleared up a murder mystery which, if solved sooner, would have made life pleasanter for a disease ridden man named Rozier, who was regarded as his murderer for nearly half a century. Rozier and Glasser were brought up together in the village of Black Rock. Fiftyfive years ago the two went west to seek their fortunes. A year after his departure, Glasser ceased writing letters to his parents. and a few months later Rozier returned with Glasser's watch, trunk and carpenter tools. He was unable to say what had become of Glasser, and gradually the suspicion developed that he had murdered his companion. Proof, however, could not be obtained, and he was never prosecuted. Nevertheess, Glasser's relatives treated him as a murderer. Although he was ostracized, he continued to live in Buffalo until his death, about ten years ago, his hope being that classer would return some day and clear his haracter of the murder charge.

Glasser knew nothing of the suspicions directed against his companion, and explained that he had given his effects to Rozier in return for money loaned. The two separated in Ohio, and Glasser went to California, being one of the original gold hunters in that State. He was not successful in that venture, and turned his attention to ranching, making his fortune in that way. He is 76 years old, has been married twice, and is the father of five children, the eldest of whom is 13 years old and the youngest 5.

TRAIN ROBBER SHOT.

Express Messenger Drives Off Gang Who Held Up Colorado and Southern Train. TRINIDAD, Col., Nov. 19 .- Four heavily armed masked desperadoes last night held up passenger train No. 7 on the Colorado and Southern road, twelve miles south f here. One of the robbers was shot by Express Messenger H. W. Sherwick with probably fatal effect, and the band hastily retired without getting anything. The robbers flagged the train and as it lowed up they ran alongside of the engine and covered the crew with revolvers.

They compelled Engineer John Guilfoil to They compelled Engineer John Guilfoil to alight, and after placing a sack filled with dynamite under the baggage ear and attaching a fuse to the explosive they ordered Guilfoil to ignite the fuse. This he attempted to do several times, but for some reason the fuse would not burn. During this proceeding the robbers kept up a fusillade of shots in the direction of the train for the purpose of intimidating the passengers. the purpose of intimidating the passengers.

While they were preparing to rearrange the dynamite and fuse Messenger Sherwick, after extinguishing the lights in his car, quietly opened a side door in the car far enough to push out a gun barrel and fired at the nearest robber. The latter fell, this startled convention vided bin in the car far enough to push out a gun barrel and fired at the nearest robber. His startled companions picked him up and quickly disappeared in the woods near by. None of the passengers was molested. The Sheriff of Las Animas county imme-diately organized a posse and is now in pursuit with bloodhounds.

RELATIONSHIP TO ORDER. Sworn to by One Madalene in Citizenship

Cases It's Alleged-Now He's in Jail. James Madalene, an Italian described y the Federal authorities as a professional witness, who makes a specialty of identifying fellow countrymen to order in naturalization cases, was arrested yesterday by United States Marshal Henkel on the charge of having made a false affidavit before United States Commissioner Morle in United States

Brooklyn a week ago.
On Nov. 12 an Italian calling himself Joseph Madalene appeared before the Brooklyn Commissioner to take out his Brooklyn Commissioner to take Madalene, out it is accommissioner to take the out his Brooklyn Commissioner to take out his second citizenship papers. James'Madalene, who is known also as Edward Martin, accompanied him, and, it is charged, swore that the applicant was his cousin and had been in this country for seventeen years. Something the would-be citizen said excited the Commissioner's suspicions that he was not telling the truth and after closely questioning the applicant. the Commissioner's suspicions are considered to the applicant. ne was not tening the ruth and after closely questioning the applicant, the Commis-sioner ordered him under arrest. While the questioning was going on James Mada-lene gradually edged to the door and when the arrest was made he had disappeared. The Federal officials hunted all over Brook-lene for him without success.

lyn for him without success.

Yesterday Marshal Henkel was asked to try to find him in Manhattan and did. Commissioner Shields remanded him to DRAGGED HIM OUT OF A SALOON. Mrs. Decker of Syracuse Shoves Her Husband Into the Canal.

SYRACUSE, Nov. 19 .- Mrs. W. D. Decker of South State street is the latest woman to adopt strenuous methods in temperance reform. She entered Adam Ricker's saloon at about noon to-day and found her loon at about noon to-day and found her husband there. "You old reprobate, come out of there," she shouted.

"Go chase yourself," was the answer.
"I'll chase you," said Mrs. Decker.
Grabbing Decker by the shoulders, she picked him up out of the chair and started for the rear door, which opens on to the canal towpath. She gave him a shove, and into the canal he went. He came to the surface, but went down again. Several men ran out of the saloon and a rope was thrown to the drowning man. He was pulled ashore half dead and taken to the police station. Mrs. Decker repented enough to take him some dry clothes.

RAIDERS USE DYNAMITE. Explosive Thrown Into a Flock of 2,500 Sheep.

FOWLER, Col., Nov. 19 .- A battle to the leath between four desperadoes and a posse of seven men is possible as a result of a of seven men is possible as a result of a raid on the sheep ranch of James Brown, fifteen miles west of here, last night.

The robbers first fired a charge of dynamite under the shack in which the tender was asleep, but though the building was wrecked the man escaped injury.

Another charge of dynamite was hurled in the centre of the flock of 2,500 sheep. Many were killed and the others driven off. Pursuit was taken up, and two and a half miles from the ranch the robbers abandoned the sheep and fled.

The posseat last accounts had surrounded the men.

OLD NURSE'S WILL STANDS. eaving Her Property to Marquise and Baroness-Contest Stops.

The will of Margaret Bergen, the eightyrear-old woman who left her property to the Baroness von Zedlitz and the Maruise de Monstiers Merinville, two sisters whom she had nursed as children, was admitted to probate yesterday, the contest having been given up over night. Mrs. Bergen left some $25,000, but omitted all mention of her relatives in her will save one niece. About forty relatives near and distant, had begun an action to contest the probate, alleging incompetency and undue influence

Former Marquette Club President Arrested CHICAGO, Nov. 19.-Herman B. Wickersham, former president of the Marquette Club, president of the Lincoln Park Board Club, president of the Lincoln Park Board in 1900 and an attorney, was arrested last night by detectives from the central station on a charger of embezzlement involving more than $800. He is alleged to have held the money in trust for Anna Sladek, whose father had committed suicide and whose mother had died in an insane asylum. The complainant is Justice of the Peace O. J. Chott, who is the girl's guardian.

SAYS SHE'S NOT A MURDERESS

THOUGH SHE STOOD PISTOL IN HAND OVER DEAD MAN.

May Hulton's Remarkable Story of the Death of John Johnson, Her Lover -Bought the Revolver, She Says, Because He Told Her He Wanted It

A quarrel between John Johnson, 21 years old, a bartender, and May Hulton, 20 years old, his common-law wife, resulted vesterday forenoon in the killing of the former by a bullet wound in the left temple in the front parlor of a furnished-room house at 118 Lawrence street, Brooklyn which the couple had occupied for three weeks. The young woman declared that Johnson had shot himself, but she is locked up on a charge of murder.

Ever since the couple came to the house there had been numerous quarrels between hem. William Rasmus, the janitor, says that the disturbance in the front parlor became so violent yesterday morning that he decided to go and try to settle the trouble or have the pair ejected from the

Just as he was about to enter the room there was a report of a pistol, and on opening the door he saw Johnson lying on the bed face downward, and the woman standing alongside with a revolver in her hand He ran to the street and told Policeman Michael Clune of the Adams street station what he had just seen.
Clune hurried to the house and found

Johnson unconscious on the bed, with a wound in the temple. He summoned an ambulance surgeon, but on his arrival the man was dead. Johnson was clad in his shirt, underwear and trousers and there was no trace of his coat or waistcoat. When taken to the Adams street station

May Hulton declared that Johnson had committed suicide. Johnson, according to her statement, came home drunk about 4 o'clock in the morning and immediately began to quarrel with her, the trouble continuing almost uninterruptedly until 9 o'clock. During the quarreling he threw a beer bottle and a glass vase at her and she exhibited a fresh gash on the head in cor-exhibited a fresh gash on the head in cor-roboration of her story.

The broken bottle and, vase found on the floor of the room convinced the police that this part of the girl's statement was Finally, she says, Johnson quieted down and, picking up his coat and waistcoat, told her to go out and pawn them and with the proceeds and $2 additional, which he gave her, to purchase a second-hand revolver. He explained that he wanted the weapon to protect himself.

The young woman started out with the clothing and in a neighboring pawnshop pledged them for $2 and then bought a five-chambered revolver for $4. She told the pawnbroker that her husband was all alone n the house and wanted the pistol for selfprotection. On her return with the weapon Johnson gave her 10 cents to go out and buy some cartridges and she went out and purchased them. When she came back Johnson found that they did not fit the weapon and at his direction she had them exchanged and at his direction she had them exchanged for bullets that would fit.

Johnson, while lying on the bed, she said, fitted the five cartridges into the five chambers of the revolver and while she was in another part of the room preparing some eigarette pictures for the adornment of the walls, he suddenly exclaimed that he was tired of life and, putting the pistol to his head shot himself. Running to the bed she seized the revolver and had it in her she seized the revolver and had it in he she seized the revolver and had it in her hand as the janitor rushed in.

The janitor explained to the police that he did not witness the shooting, but that the woman was standing over Johnson with the revolver in her hand as he entered. His first statement he said to the effect that he had seen the shot fired was due to his excitement at the time. his excitement at the time.

The Hulton girl became acquainted

The Hulton girl became acquainted with Johnson two years ago, while she was working in a factory in Plymouth street. He induced her to leave the home of her widowed mother and live with him. her widowed mother and live with him. She says that for eighteen months she had been supporting him by a life of shame, giving him sometimes as much as $30 a week. She frequented saloons in the neighborhood of Borough Hall.

Johnson was jealous of her, she said, and feared that she would leave him. The girl was brought up in the Fifth ward and before leaving home had attended the St. James Pro-Cathedral in Jay street.

Capt. Bedell of the Adams street station does not credit the girl's account of the shooting, but is strongly inclined to the theory that she fired the shot herself while the quarrel between her and Johnson was in

NO DIVORCE FOR A. W. TAPPAN. Court Found That His Story of His Wife's Crueltles Was Not Corroborated.

DANBURY, Conn., Nov. 19 .- The application of Arthur W. Tappan of this city for an absolute divorce from Maud Benedict Tappan, because of his wife's alleged cruelty to him, was denied by Judge Silas A, Robinson in the Superior Court here to-day Mrs. Tappan, plump and pretty, but strenuous, according to her husband's stories of his experiences with her, went upon th witness stand to deny various tales of her physical prowess related to the Court by the plaintiff. She denied them so emphatically and there was so little evidence to corroborate the other side that Judge Robinson felt obliged to dismiss the action. Mr. Tappan told the Court that at one time he wore a bandage of red flanne around his throat for a long time. His friends thought that he was trying to cure a sore throat, but the flannel hid from public gaze the marks left upon his neck by his wife's fingers when she tried to choke him. He said her cruel treatment began two months after they were married, in 1892, and one of the first indications of the waning of the honeymoon was a punch in the face that split open Tappan's lip and the face that split open Tappan's lip and drew blood from his nose. His wife assaulted him frequently after that, he declared, once striking him over the head with the heel of her opera slipper when something went wrong in her boudoir. On another occasion she slapped him in the face with the blade of a table knife.

Although Mr. Tappan is taller than his wife he admits that she had no trouble at all in knocking him down when such action suited her fancy. This happened once, he said, while he was walking along Main street in this city. He had asked the police a few moments previously to protect him street in this city. He had asked the police a few moments previously to protect him from his wife's fists and she walked up to him and sent him to the pavement with a blow. He clinched with her, and together they rolled into the street, where he managed to wrench himself loose from her. A crowd gathered and appliceman was attracted to the scene of the trouble. Tappan told the Court that he interceded to save his wife from arrest.

At another time Mrs. Tappan's father and brother happened to drop in during a home altercation. They made the woful mistake, Tappan said, of believing that he was the aggressor in the trouble, and they promptly accused him of assaulting his wife and took him out of doors and administered additional chastisement to him.

Mrs. Tappan, who does not look to be more than 25 years old, though she is, was

Mrs. Tappan, who does not look to be more than 25 years old, though she is, was before her marriage Maud Benedict, one of the prettiest girls in this city. She denied on the witness stand that she was ever cruel in her treatment of her husband, out admitted that once, when provoked, he slapped him.

Ship Captain Killed by a Fall. John Croston, captain of the cattleship

North Point of Boston, which has been lying off East Ninteteenth street, fell from the deck to the lower hold, thirty feet below, yesterday, and was instantly killed.

ALL WANT PARLOR MATCHES. No Opposition to Their Sale at the Hearing

Before Commissioner Sturgis. The Municipal Explosives Commission

held a hearing at Fire Headquarters yesterday on the proposed prohibition of parlor matches after Jan. 1. No one appeared in favor of the prohibition, while the wholesale grocers and the match manufacturers had several representatives to protest against it. They agreed that than sulphur matches if properly handled. "The people want parlor matches, and if you prohibit the sale of them in this city they will send to other cities for them and you will drive trade away," said one of the

"The prohibition of the sale and storage of unsafe matches is fixed by law and we cannot change it. What we desire of you is to have you point out what matches are safe and what ones are unsafe," Commissioner Sturgis said.

Secretary Gardiner of the Board of Trade and Transportation suggested that the men interested in the match trade hold a meeting on Friday at the Board of Trade and Transportation rooms and frame recommendations for the commission. This was agreed to and the hearing ad-

"KNOCKER" A NEW WORD TO HIM. Policeman Cain on Trial Pleads Ignorance

-Definitions for Piper. The meanings of "knock" and "knocker" came up yesterday in the trial at Police Headquarters of Policeman George R. Cain of the Macdougal street station, who is accused of being implicated with Louisea Gibson, a colored woman, in the robbery of Samuel H. Driver, a fireman in the United States Navy.

According to one of the witnesses Cain told a man named Charley Graham, who went with Driver to receive his money from the colored woman:

"You're a knocker and you don't want to go around trying to knock my game." "What do you mean by a knocker?' asked Deputy Commissioner Piper of Cain.
"I never heard the expression before," said Cain. "Sometimes I have heard negroes talking of 'knocking' a man, meaning to knock down and rob somebody."
"Did you ever heard the word 'squeal?" asked Assistant District Attorney Sanford.

"Oh, yes," replied Cain. "I know what that means in the Police Department." When the next witness, Graham, was called, Capt. Piper asked him to give an explanation of "knocker." "It means to call a man's game," he said.

Further on in the trial Capt. Piper ques-tioned another witness, who said: "It means to queer another man's game." This seemed to satisfy Capt. Piper. cision in the case was reserved.

THINK BURGLAR SHOT SIEVERS. One Tried to Break Into House Near Mailet's Early Monday Morning.

Capt, Kenny of the Parkville station yesterday received information of an attempt to enter the residence of William A. Brown, whose home adjoins that of the Mallet place, at about the time when Sievers, the coachman, was so mysteriously shot on Monday morning.

About 6 o'clock a daughter of Mr. Brown was awakened by a noise at her window. She aroused her mother. The child said she had seen the shadow of a man at her window. Mrs. Brown told the police yes-terday that she heard a man running on the payement in the direction of the Mallet Heavy footprints were found by detectives beneath the girl's window and on the soft grass leading to the paved sidewalk. Sievers was reported in a serious condi-tion at the Kings County Hospital last night. He was said to have but little chance for The police are now inclined to believe that a burglar attempted to enter the Brown house and when frightened away, ran to the Mallet barn, expecting to find it empty. When Sievers was found there the burglar, it is thought, shot him to avoid being recognized.

NEGRO TO PAY FOR CRIME. Jury Took Two Minutes to Convict Him

of Assaulting a White Girl. Isaac Williams, the negro, who with two white men vas jointly indicted for criminal assault on Miss Phoebe Stafford, a young white woman, was on trial in the County Court, Brooklyn, yesterday. The jury took two minutes to declare the negro guilty. He will be sentenced by Judge Crane on Monday.

Williams and his two confederates waylaid Miss Stafford and her escort on the night of Oct. 31, while she was on her way to her home, 315 Sheffield avenue. They frightened off her escort and took her to a vacant lot nearby.

lot nearby.

When Williams was arraigned a brother of the wronged girl struck him, knocking

DOWER AND ANNUITY FOR WIDOW Court of Appeals Decides That She May Get Both Under Will. A decision of the Court of Appeals handed down in Brooklyn yesterday in the suit of Elizabeth Horstmann, the widow of Luhr Horstmann, decides that a wife is entitled to dower, even if she is left by will a legacy to dower, even if she is left by will a legacy expressly charged upon the testator's real estate, unless there is a clause in the will which states that the provision for her is in "lieu of dower."

All the real property of the estate will be sold under decree of the court, and the widow will be entitled to receive the income from one-third of the proceeds of the sale so long as she lives; or she may take a gross sum in lieu of dower. At the same time, she will receive her annuity, as provided in the will.

DOCTOR CHARGED $15 A VISIT. Patient Wouldn't Pay, but the Jury Says

Dr. Jacob H. Asch got a verdict yesterday for $251 against Charles Goldsmith, a manufacturing jeweller, for services rendered at Arverne some time ago, when Goldsmith was ill with pneumonia. Dr. Asch was summering at Arverne, and he charged his patient $15 a visit, seeing him twice daily. When Goldsmith got well he refused to pay more than $3 a visit, Though the suit took but little over an hour to try, the jury took five hours before deciding that Dr. Asch was entitled to his

COLONISTS COME HOME.

100 Persons Who Went to Colorado From Pennsylvania Glad to Get Back. ALTOONA, Pa., Nov. 19.—There returned to Altoona to-day a colony of 100 persons who, under the leadership of John Hoover, eft this neighborhood a year ago for Col-orado, under one of the colonization schemes orado, under one of the colonization schemes that held out great promises to those who would embark in them.

The people sold off their property here, went to the Centennial State and started in, but from the very first met with failure and a short time ago sent here for help to reach their homes again. The aid was sent and the party came in to-day, having lost their all in the venture.

Columbia Honors Dr. Hamilton J. Castner. A handsome bronze tablet in memory of Hamilton J. Castner was placed in Havemeyer Hall at Columbia University yesterday. Dr. Castner was graduated at Columbia in 1878. He achieved great success in numerous inventions in electrochemistry. He died at the age of 41 while engaged in researches in the field of industrial chemistry.

HUNDREDS OF CRIPPLED CHIL-DREN COME FOR HELP.

Dr. Shaffer, Who Is Selecting the Ones for Treatment, Says There Are More Than 30,000 So Afflicted in the City, of Whom 85 Per Cent. Might Be Cured.

The clinic which Dr. Newton M. Shaffer arranging for Dr. Adolph Lorenz, the University of Vienna specialist, at the Cornell University Medical College, is already assuming proportions of which even Dr Shaffer, an expert on diseases of the hip and orthopædie troubles, had not dreamed.

Dr. Shaffer said yesterday that in view of the numbers who had come to the Cornell dispensary at Twenty-seventh street and First avenue in the last few days he was convinced that there were between 30,000 and 40,000 crippled children in the city. 20,000 in Manhattan alone, and that fully 85 per cent, of these could be made at least able to work if their diseases were treated

"I am terribly in earnest about this," said Dr. Shaffer. "I can't see how money can be spent in any better way than in treating these children. Yet there are scores of children who have had to wait years to take their turn in the orthopædie institutions in this State. Hundreds and hundreds of others have not even been brought for treatment by their parents, who seem to regard a congenital malformation or dislocation as a curse of God and think it would be a rebellion against Him to try to effect a cure.

"The call for children to form the clinic over which Dr. Lorenz will preside has done wonders in bringing out cases that have hitherto been hidden. Very few are subjects for Dr. Lorenz, but we are taking the names of all of the applicants, and some day something may be done for them. Dr. Shaffer is surgeon-in-chief of the New York State Hospital for the Care of Crippled and Deformed Children at Tarrytown. The State is paving some money for its maintenance, but Dr. Shaffer says the amount is only a drop in the bucket.

"It is a business proposition in one way, he said. "If these children have their club feet and dislocations even partly cured they will be put in a position so that they can earn a living or at least part of a living."

Dr. Shaffer and his assistants examined 209 children yesterday-the largest number since the call for the Lorenz clinic was issued. These, however, were merely those who had hip diseases or club feet or some other malformation, and of the 209 fewer than twenty had congenital hip dislocation.

Besides these 209 children there were scores who came with swarms of sisters mothers, fathers and relatives and who were suffering from all sorts of ailments. Children and relatives all came with an expectant look and with questions which indicated an unreasoning trust that Dr. Lorenz could heal them in some supernatural way.

Besides the applications made in person of others have at the dispensary, scores of others have come by mail. One letter requested the cure of a dislocated thumb, while others prayed for a cure of consumption. Many inclosed photographs of ailing children. They came from all over the eastern section of the United States. Some of these tters were followed by appeals in person by those who lived at a distance from New ork. Of those who brought children to be treated a newspaper said that numbers came in automobiles and carriages. Dr. Shaffer said nearly all the applicants he had seen were, apparently, very poor, and that none was wealthy enough to afford an automobile or carriage. When examination for the clinic ended

When examination for the clinic ended yesterday Dr. Sahffer and his assistants in the dispensary said they had examined more than 500 children since they began on Friday. Of these about thirty have been selected for Dr. Lorenz's clinic. There will probably be a bigger clinic than Dr. Lorenz can attend to, according to Dr.

RUSH TO THE LORENZ CLINIC. LAST SIX DAYS. @ @

The VERESTCHAGIN COLLECTION OF PAINTINGS,

ROOSEVELT'S ROUGH RIDERS AT SAN JUAN.

Prior to their sale at auction on the evening of Wednesday, Nov. 26th,

ASTOR GALLERY

WALDORF-ASTORIA. Open from 10 A. M. to 11 P. M. Admission, 50c.

JOHN FELL O'BRIEN, Mgr.

Shaffer, but all who are selected will be treated by competent specialists.

The thirty have all been photograpehd by the X-ray apparatus so as to make Dr. Lorenz's task as simple as possible. Dr. Shaffer started out with two assistants; now he has three or four all the time near him and his force will probably contain twice that many before he is through.

STUDENT SHOOTS A BURGLAR.

FEIGNED SLEEP WHILE THE THIEF WAS LOOKING.

NEW COMMISSIONER OF JURORS.

Little Patronage Tammany Holdovers Protected by Civil Service Law. Charles Welde, who by the decision of the Court of Appeals which declared the appointment of Thomas Allison as Commissioner of Jurors by the Appellate Division to be Constitutional will now have to vacate his office, has been confined to his home for the last two weeks with a severe attack of asthma. He was appointed in September, 1898. His salary was $5,000 a

Just before Mr. Allison was appointed to succeed Mr. Welde, last spring, the Justices of the Appellate Division in the Brooklyn department held that the Lagisiature could not empower the Appellate Division to appoint a county officer. Because of this decision Mr. Welde refused to surrender his office, but the finding of the Court of Appeals now compels him to do so. The advent of a Republican Commissioner will lead to very few changes in the office. There are thirty-six employees the office. six employees, mostly Tammany men, but nearly all of them are protected by the ivil Service law.

Mr. Allison will take office as soon as he receives a certified copy of the decision of the Court of Appeals.

POST OFFICE ROBBERS ESCAPE. Five Masked Men Shoot Their Way Out of Town-Cittzen Injured.

EDINBORO, Pa., Nov. 19.-Five explosions in quick succession, followed by revolver shot, drew twenty citizens to the post office, in the Independent Building, at 1:40 o'clock this morning. Five masked men ran from the building toward the crowd and at the point of their revolvers made a way open for escape. They fired several bullets into the posse, but no one was injured.

As they ran they turned and fired again, a shot taking effect in the arm of George S. Goodale, who had opened the window of his bedroom and was watching the one-sided battle. The robbers were soon out of reach, and the posse entered the post office to find the safe blown open and its papers scattered about the floor. The door of the safe was thrown across the

The postmaster said the safe contained the postmaster said the safe contained $20 and probably $300 in postage stamps. A posse, composed of men who were awaiting the report of a jury who could not agree, started on a trail of the robbers within twenty minutes after the alarm, but returned at 4 o'clock.

ing the report of a jury who could not agree, started on a trail of the robbers within twenty minutes after the alarm, but returned at 4 o'clock. Land for Jamestown's Exposition. Newport News, Va., Nov. 19.—The Jamestown Tricentenary Exposition, to be held in 1907, will be on 330 acres of land at the end of Sewell's Point on Hampton Roads, facing Old Point Comfort. The Exposition Company to-day decided to buy the land, paying $112,500 for it, or $340 The shots aroused the Pryor household. As soon as Commodore Pryor and his son could dress and arm themselves, they collected the servants and started in pursuit of the robber. Capt. Hynds of the Larchmont police, and several of his men joined in the chase. The posse pursued the burglar to the edge of the woods, where they lost the trail. While Charles W. Farmer, editor of the Millinery Trades Review and his family were attending a lecture, in New Rochelle last night a burglar entered the house by breaking a window and carried away several hundreds of dollars' worth of clothing. buy the land, paying $112,500 for it, or $340

Then Got a Pistol and Followed Him and Put a Shot Into His Right Arm-Burglar Hegged Off and Shipped-

"Charles A. Pryor's House in Larch LARCHMONT. Nov. 19.-Harold Prvor. son of Charles A. Pryor, shot a burglar in his father's house early this morning. The thief got away.

The Pryors live on the shore of the sound Mr. Pryor was formerly Commodore of the New Rochelle Yacht Club, and is a prominent member of the Larchmont Yacht Club. He has lived in Larchmont for several years, and keeps a large establishment. His son Harold, who lives with him, attends Columbia College, and is also engaged in business at the Knickerbocker Press in New York, of which his father is secretary.

Young Pryor, who sleeps in a room on the second floor of the house, was aroused at 1:30 o'clock this morning by a noise at the window. He listened and then heard footsteps on the piazza roof. A few minutes later the window was raised and a tall man wearing a soft hat and carrying a dark lantern cautiously climbed into the room. The burglar flashed the light about the room several times and then saw Harold, who was lying in bed pretending to be asleep. Harold tried to breathe hard to fool the burglar, and evidently succeeded, for the robber after going through his pockets and taking his watch and loose change stole quietly toward another room in which the family jewels are kept. Scarcely had the burglar left the bedroom when Harold sprang up, and, taking revolver from a drawer in the dresser, followed him into the hall. As Harold reached the hall the burglar was trying to unlock a closet in a large front room, where Commodore Pryor keeps his silver and the trophies he has won in yacht races along he Sound.

Harold fired at the men twice. The second shot took effect in the burglar's right arm, which dropped helpless to his side. He staggered and gave a groan.

As the burglar backed slowly out of the room and down the stairway holding his disabled arm, he said:

"Please don't shoot me again, young fellow. You have put me out of business."

When the burglar reached the front door he unbolted it quickly and then, stepping outside, turned and ran for the woods.

The shots aroused the Pryor household.

hundreds of dollars' furs and jewelry.

Omega Oil

an acre.

The average man weighs about 140 tired feet is the kind of strength to be pounds and the average woman about 120. found in Omega Oil.

If you want to realize how heavy that can bear the strain.

If you can stand it a full minute, you are doing remarkably well.

feet hold up that big weight for hours at a time every day? tired at night.

That is why they ache, itch, burn and but it does not go far enough. The strained, tired-out muscles and

For 25 cents you can get a cake of is, pick up something about those weights Omega Oil Soap, and with this Soap you and see how long your hands and arms can wash every impurity from the pores of your feet.

For 50 cents you can get a bottle of Omega Oil, and with this Oil you can

Did you ever stop and think that your rub your feet thoroughly each night. The Oil will go in through the clean. open pores, and strengthen and comfort That is why your feet are sore and your feet in a manner that will astonish

Thus for 75 cents you can put your feet in a sound, healthy condition, and A foot-bath before retiring is helpful, you won't be bothered with itching, swelling, aching or burning.

It may be possible for 75 cents to buy ligaments call for something strengthen- more comfort and satisfaction than come ing, just as your stomach calls for food. from perfectly sound feet, but it will keep The kind of strength needed for sore, you guessing to tell what it is